Hon. Joseph B. Cheadle Doing Great Good in His District-Rallies at Clay City, Orleans, Kendallville and Danville.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WILLIAMSPORT, Oct. 29.—Congressman J B. Cheadle, of the Ninth district, addressed a good audience in Nebeker's Opera-house, at this place, yesterday, at 2:30 P. M. The greater portion of his speech was upon the new tariff law, and was directed to the farmers in the meeting. Mr. Cheadle is an easy and interesting speaker, and he had the satisfaction of knowing that his talk was appreciated. He clearly pointed out wherein the farmers were directly benefitted by protection in the McKinley bill, and why it was necessary to protect the American farmers against the cheap wheat from India, imported into this country by England, and the barley and hay, and horses from Canada. He said that the farmer was even protected in the production of eggs, as a tariff had been placed on eggs shipped into this country by Canadian farmers, and that as far as he was concerned he believed the American hen should furnish Americans their eggs. He also spoke to the soldier boys in the audience upon the new pension bill, and explained to their satisfaction why he believed it right that the widow and the children of a soldier should be as fairly and equitably treated as the soldier himself. He did not and could not forget that the family of the dead soldier should be granted by the government as much as the soldier himself.

Mr. Cheadle has lost no popularity here, and his speech showed that he remained steadfast and firm to the grand and unselfish principles of his party. His talk here has done good and confirmed the faith of the followers who have worked and won in many hard-fought contests. At the close of his speech three rousing cheers were given for the old flag and the grand old

Democratic Flasco at Peru.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERU, Oct. 29 .- The Democratic lovefeast, to have been a wondrous affair here to-day, and which flaming posters and startling head-lines have announced for weeks past, has come and gone, a most dismal failure, indicative of the condition of the party after Tuesday next. The utter collapse is partly due to bad weather, but mainly to an utter lack of interest. Ex-Senator McDonald in the afternoon addressed less than three hundred people with a speech mainly devoted to attacking the tariff bill, which only four times caused applause. The speaker seemed ill, and at the close attempted to show reason for the enormous State debt, and warmly commended the Democratic gerrymander. Hon. John Kealing rehashed similar fallacies to a small audience in the evening. The first and only Republican speeches of the campaign here will be made Saturday by Hon. A. C. Harris and Oliver T. Morton.

Mount at Covington. Special to the Indianapolis Journal,

COVINGTON, Oct. 29. - Hon. James A Mount, Republican candidate for Congress in this, the Eighth congressional district, closed his campaign in this county to-night under the most favorable auspices. The large court-room was crowded to its utmost capacity. The audience was enthusiastic, and cheered the meritorious utterances of the speaker to the echo. He dealt ably and logically with the McKinley bill, making comparisons between it and the notorious Mills bill, to the great damage and prejudice of the Democratic party. He commended the great work of the last Congress, stigmatized the infamous gerrymander as outrageous, made a scathing arraignment of the Democratic management of State affairs, especially of the benevolent | by the Democratic city committee, and institutions, and in fact made one of the hest Republican speeches ever delivered at Lovett at Kendailville. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

KENDALLVILLE, Oct. 29. - Those who braved the storm last night by coming out to Mitchell's Opera-house were treated to an able discussion of the public issues of the day by Hon. J. W. Lovett, candidate for Attorney-general. The audience, although not large, was earnest, as appeared by the hearty cheers, which were frequent and enthusiastic. Mr. Lovett first took up the tariff and silver questions, then the State debt and gerrymander. His argument was simply unanswerable, and made a lasting impression on the minds of his audience. By his fair and candid manner he made many warm friends in the city of Kendallville. While there is no great stir in political matters in Noble county, the Republicans are alive and looking well after the interests of the party, and will do their duty next Tuesday.

Hon. J. M. Butler at Clay City. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CLAY CITY, Oct. 29 .- Hon. John M. Butler delivered a telling address to the citizens of Clay City on Tuesday afternoon. Notwithstanding the inclement weather a fair audience assembled at the opera-house to hear the political issues discussed by this giant defender of Republican principles. The speaker's time was somewhat limited, but he made good use of the passing moments. The Democratic State debt, the infamous gerrymander, the pension legislation, the question of protection, including the McKinley bill, comparison of parties and prices, etc., were considered in a way that caused Democrats to wince, while Republicans smiled and cheered. In a word, the speech was just what was needed, and every Republican who heard it is greatly strengthened and encouraged.

Secretary Griffin at Shelbyville.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SHELBYVILLE, Oct. 29 .- Hon. Charles Griffin, Secretary of State, delivered the closing speech of the campaign in this city at the Opera Hall to-night. Hon. James B. McFadden presided, and the following prominent Republicans occupied seats on the stage as vice-presidents: William Hacker, Joseph Levinson, E. B. Wingate, S. B. Morris, Dr. J. W. Green, R. S. Wells, B. F. Love, T. B. Adams, T. S. Caughey, Z. B. Wallar, James E. McGuire, George W. Kennedy. William Lacy. Mr. Griffin delivered a magnificent speech on State and national issues, his points being made in so forcible a manner as to create the greatest enthusiasm among Recounty are united and ready for the fight on Tuesday next. A full vote will be polled and some gains made.

Hon. John Worrell at Utica. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

UTICA, Oct. 29. - One of the most successfal Republican gatherings ever held in this most ancient of Democratic strongholds was held on Tuesday night. Captain Worreil, who addressed the people, had a splendid and attentive audience. The crowd was doubly significant when compared with the number of hearers Jason Brown had a few nights since. He dealt the Democrats some heavy blows in regard to their mismanagement of State affairs, and concerning their gross misrepresentations of the McKinley bill. In the language of one of his hearers, Captain Worrell makes a "vote-winning speech" and leaves no room for doubt in the mind of any one as to how he should cast his vote. The meetings at this place cannot fail to do great good.

Making Votes in Hendricks County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PITTSBORO, Oct. 29.-Notwithstanding the wind and the rain last night, the Town hall was well filled with earnest Republicans who came out to hear ex-Lieutenantgovernor Thomas Hanna, Mr. Hanna's speech had a good effect and aroused much enthusiasm. He showed the utter inability Legislature, that requires 87,000 Republican votes and only 26,000 Democratic votes to elect a Congressman. The voters here are wide awake, and if the State at large will do as well as Hendricks county, victory is assured. Several Prohibition voters and Democratic soldiers have declared for Major Dunbar for Congress.

Lively Work in Benton County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FOWLER, Oct. 29.—State Senator B. F. Harness, of Kokomo, spoke to a fair audience, last night, at the court-house. It rained all day, and farmers could not come out to hear one of the most convincing arguments for the protective tariff that has ever been made here. Hon. John L. Griffiths talked to a large audience last Saturday night, and J. B. Cheadle, M. C., held forth at the court-house to-night. Thus far no Democratic speeches have been made in Benton county.

Mr. Cheadle made a masterly argument upon the chief issues of the campaign. mainly in support of the beneficent results of protection. His speech was listened to by a large and intelligent audience, among whom were many Democrats, who were favorably impressed with Mr. Cheadle's argument. He has done a good work in this county.

Hon, W. E. Humphrey at Orleans.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ORLEANS, Oct. 29 .- Hon. W. E. Humphrey was greeted at the Town hall here last night with a large audience, not withstanding the very bad weather. His speech embraced many points of strong argument in favor of a Republican victory in Indiana. His address was a plain statement of political facts, which cannot be refuted. He devoted some time to the McKinley law, and handled the State issues without gloves, amid great applause. This is the first Republican speech made here this campaign, and it seemed to instil new life and vitality into the Republicans at this place.

Trusler and Chambers at Danville. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DANVILLE, Oct. 29 .- Notwithstanding the snow and rain a good crowd assembled in the court-house to hear Hon. Milton Trusler and Hon, Smiley N. Chambers this afternoon. Each gentleman spoke an hour, Mr. Trusler leading. His speech was to the farmers especially, who formed the larger portion of the audience. Mr. Chambers followed, speaking more especially on the tariff and State debt. Frequent applause was generously given the many good points of each speech. Hendricks county is well in line, and will keep up her reputation with a good majority next Tuesday.

Rally at Crawfordsville.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Oct. 29.—Hon. John F Scanlan, of Chicago, spoke in this city last evening, at the court-house. Quite a number of persons turned out to hear him in spite of the rain, snow and disagreeable weather. He spoke for over an hour, explaining the Lodge bill and the tariff, and showed that he was talking about something with which he was perfectly familiar. He showed, by many illustrations in everyday life, that the tariff was not a tax, and his talk was well received by the Republicans as well as by others who heard him.

In Ripley County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DELAWARE, Oct. 29 .- The Republicans of this portion of Ripley county held a large and enthusiastic meeting here to-night, addressed by Hon. Marcus R. Sulzer, of Madison. His able presentation of State issues and discussion of national affairs was received with great interest and evoked much applause. The Republicans of this county are alive and hustling, and will show good results next week. One of the best in this county will be the defeat for the Legislature of the demagogue candidate-Chester Faulkner.

Fraudulent Registrations by Democrats. LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 29.—The Republicans to-day had two warrants issued against voters whose poll-taxes were paid whose registration is thus claimed to be fraudulent under the statute. Some three hundred Democratic names have been placed upon the list in this way, and these cases are brought to settle the legality of the presence thereon.

Cannon and Rowell Hold a Joint Meeting. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MONTICELLO, Ill., Oct. 29.—Congressmen Joseph G. Cannon and J. H. Rowell, of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts, addressed the Republican grand rally at At-wood to-day. There was a large number present from Piatt and Douglas counties. They gave a full history of the legislation and the business of the Fifty-first Congress. including the silver bill, the tariff law, the election bill and other measures.

Meeting at Fortville. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORTVILLE, Oct. 29.-Hon. F. J. Van Vorhis delivered an able address to a large and enthusiastic audience last evening, which was composed of the leading men of different parties. Mr. Van Vorhis's argument was mainly on the tariff and an occasional sprinkling of the State debt. The Republican party was never in better shape for battle here than at present.

Voters Must Be Able to Read.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 29 .- The much-discussed understanding clause of Section 5 of the franchise report was before the convention to-day. Colonel Muldrow called up his motion previously filed to reconsider the vote by which the section was adopted, his purpose being to effect the rescinding of the provision requiring voters to be able to read the Constitution or understand the same when read or give an intelligent interpretation thereof. After discussion the motion to reconsider the section was tabled by a vote of 67 to 34. This is accepted as final, and Section 5 will stand without amendment or modification.

Charged with Swindling Farmers. BALTIMORE, Oct. 29.-John R. Crittenden and Wm. Stoffen, doing business as individuals and as a firm under the name of Crittenden & Co., were arrested to-day. It is alleged that they have been flooding agricultural points in the West with circulars, offering big prices for produce, for which upon being shipped here by farmers, it is alleged, they failed to pay. The charges on which they were arrested was made by Charles Kember, of Serena, Ill.

Registration at Minneapolis and St. Paul. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 29 .- The first registration in Minneapolis and St. Paul. under the new Australian law, was completed to-day, giving the following results: Minneapolis, 51,080 voters; St. Paul, 30,449. Applying the multiplier 42/5 to St. Paul gives her 135,094 population, or within sixty of the actual number counted by special census agent Wardle. Applying the same multiplier to Minneapolis gives her a population of 225,352.

INDIANA.

Thirty-Two Students Out of Notre Dame a the Result of a Saturday Lark. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 29 .- Thirty-two students of the University of Notre Dame have left, out of sympathy for two of their number, who were expelled for drunkenness. The boys put their heads together Saturday and decided on coming to the city in the evening for a lark. They did so and the time they had is shown by the result. Leaving the university without permission is strictly against the rules, and rules at Notre Dame were made to be observed. The faculty, hearing of the acts of the students, held a meeting, and the two boys who had been drunk were expelled. The rest threatened to leave also and the faculty told them to go, that discipline would be preserved at any cost. The young men left and to-day most of them have been spending the day in this city. Many were without money and pawned the tickets furnished them by President Walsh to get home for small sums. Some of the students have tried to get back into the university. but they will not be received, at least for the present. President Walsh is firm and will have strict discipline.

Billingsley's Effective Canvass.

Anderson Sun. Mr. Billingsley stands out in strong contrast to his opponent. He has conducted his canvass upon a high plane. Men of opposite views in politics have gone from his meetings feeling that they have been treated with the most respectful considerations. He has been frank and courteous alike to all. His hearers are impressed with his fair statements, his readiness to give credit where credit is due, and his forcible conclusions. There is no escaping his pointed, earnest truths. Strong parti-sans have conceded that there is that in the man that addresses itself to the better side of human nature. No one can fail to respect the man, both for his ability and courtesy in his public speeches, and no man questions his integrity. He is the opposite of his opponent, who from the start impresses his audience with his boldness and untruthfulness of denunciation, a laboring to produce effect—the anything-toget-votes method of canvass.
